Appendix: Local authority results

The Hands Up Scotland Survey is the largest national dataset to look at mode of travel to school across Scotland. The Survey is a joint project between Sustrans and Scottish local authorities. The Survey was first conducted in 2008 in partnership with School Travel Co-ordinators across Scotland. The process has been repeated in 2009 and 2010 using the same methodology.

This document lists the Hands Up Scotland Survey results at a local authority level. It accompanies a report which lists the data at a national level. Data in the tables below is presented for the three years the survey has been running. If you have received this appendix in isolation and do not have a copy of the national report please contact Katie Glass in Sustrans' Research and Monitoring Unit: katie.glass@sustrans.org.uk.
